To the Rector of
Cracow University of Economics,
Dr. Andrzej Chochół

Dear colleague!

On behalf of the entire academic staff of Karaganda economic university I would like to express gratitude for the active development of cooperation between our universities and offer congratulations on your glorious anniversary of Cracow University of Economics!

Ninetieth anniversary of the university is glorious history and bright present and an assurance in the future. 90 years is an age of maturity, which is characterized by the success of creation, search of creativeness, meaningfulness of further development. You can be justifiably proud of the brightest moments of Cracow University of Economics biography, the names of those, who stood at the origins of its formation, who ensure its authority and being in demand today.

As the Rector of the university, I would like to express my sincere gratitude and respect towards Professor Janusz Teczke for his enormous contribution to the development of our relationship, which has become not only partnership but also amicable one. Professor Teczke's lectures have become traditional at Karaganda economic university, his pedagogical skills and erudition cannot leave any listener indifferent. I am glad to note that every year our students within the framework of academic mobility undergo training at your university, where they acquire an outstanding and unforgettable experience. I also sincerely hope to continue a fruitful cooperation in the framework of the Scientific Advisory Board, joint research and other areas of our work together.

Cracow University of Economics to its 90-year border line has approached as one of the largest and most prestigious economic universities. Through dedication, tremendous creative energy, creative search, high professionalism, ability to cherish the established tradition your academic staff consistently makes progress in the implementation of the boldest ideas.

We wish you a great successes in the further implementation of your plans and continue to improve, develop and renew the tradition and experience!

Sincerely,

The Head of the University
